Consumers have crowned their top categories

When consumers find content they know and like in Valpak they come back month after month. This contributes to a high open rate for the envelope, and in turn, increases your clients opportunity for success!

Valpak compares information from the annual Category Census to the categories that Valpak consumers find most appealing, according to proven research. By focusing on the content most desired in The Blue Envelope* today, you'll engage a more receptive audience for your advertisers.
